

The Colorado Springs Gazette

AND EL PASO COUNTY NEWS.

COLORADO SPRINGS, FEBRUARY 24, 1877.

Whole No. 22.

Vol. V. No. 12.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE,
OF THE CITY OF COLORADO SPRINGS,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
AT COLORADO SPRINGS.

By the GAZETTE PUBLISHING CO.

SUSPENSION.

TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUAL PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

TERMS FOR ADVERTISING.

Business Advertisements, when ordered for more than

Business Notices, one cent per word; Legal and Public Notices, one cent per word for five words; one cent per word for each subsequent insertion.

Special Notices, 1/2 cent per line; to costs per line in persons advertising in the regular advertising columns.

For Sale, Lost, Found, Wanted, and similar Notices, one cent per word for first insertion, to costs per line for each subsequent insertion.

SANKS.

DRUGG ST.

MAKING FABRICS FINE LINEN.

BIG TREES.

GIGANTIC TIME PIECE.

VARIETIES.

Kansas has a population of 524,572.

Ohio is about to erect another monument.

Col. G. W. Ross has been appointed Adjutant General of Ireland.

The population of the Illinois penitentiary has increased 740 in the last two years, and now numbers about 1,600.

It is announced that the first Turkestan Jamboree will meet on the 1st of March.

Seventy-six or the smaller cities of Illinois have an incubation of 46,705,734.

The National Teachers' Association is to meet in Washington March 1, 2, 3, 4.

In a large iron manufactory in Western Pennsylvania, the test for smelting is made in a furnace which is wrought from a natural vein nineteen miles away.

The reports from the grasshopper regions are that the warm weather is catching out millions of the eggs deposited last fall, and it is hoped that the young insects will either freeze to death or die of starvation.

The first thing a young man does on arriving at a new town is to take it off and sit down by it on his own head.

When a young lady sees one of her acquaintances with a new bonnet, she just lifts her nose and sneers.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

He was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

He was a member of the congregation of the church of England, and was suspended for a year.

The Rev. James Farmer, of Auerlnebury, England, is up to his neck in trouble.

COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE, FEBRUARY 26, 1877.

22 OAKLAND ST. & 577
FEBRUARY 26, 1877.

Official Paper of El Paso County and of the City of Colorado Springs.

THE COUNT AS GOOD AS FINISHED.

"The wires report Oregon for Hayes and Wheeler," was the wording of a private dispatch received in this city yesterday. It has been confirmed by subsequent dispatches. This is almost as good as if the African candidates had been declared elected, as it is not likely that any more objections will be interposed. But nine States are left to dispose of, and there is little danger that these will not be counted before the 4th of March.

PROPOSITION.

If the ordinance prohibiting traffic in liquor is a failure because it has not succeeded in suppressing the sale of intoxicating drinks, then is the law prohibiting theft a failure, or there have been several cases of fancy dispensing of this sort of court; neither is the statute making it unlawful to sell a human being a perfect success, as the record of the court will show. But is there any way who will advocate the licensing of thieves or murderers, so as to be able to control an evil which cannot be eradicated while men are as they are? Such a course would, however, be as sensible and right in relation to the latter crimes as to the former.

Those of us who are opposed to article to the sale of liquor, class such sales with the crimes of arson, theft, and murder, and we have a right to do so, for he who furnishes the means which men put in their hands to steal away their brains and burn up their manhood, is an accomplice in whatever villainies may flow from indulgence in intoxicating liquors, and these are known to be all the crimes named above. To license the sale of the spirit is virtually to say to the licensed dealer, divide your spoils with us and a fair portion of the government shall be used to protect you in the enjoyment of the exclusive right to eat, out, damnation to your fellow men. In this city the prohibitory ordinance has been as much of a success as laws to suppress other crimes, and in the city of Des Moines, Iowa, it has been perfectly successful, showing that the enforcement of a prohibitory law is not an impossible task.

Mr. B. Greenell, on the 25th, declared, in an address he made to a party of friends, that "there has never been a glass of liquor sold over a bar in this city, nor have I ever seen a man reeling through the streets intoxicated."

This shows what can be done, and should encourage perseverance on the part of the temperance people who do not believe in becoming a party to the inebriate traffic by licensing it in Colorado Springs.

CITY OF DENVER.

Colorado Springs is fortunate in the matter of hotel accommodations. There are two large, handsome buildings devoted to the entertainment and comfort of visitors, the Crawford House and the Colorado Springs Hotel, both under the management of Mr. Wm. S. James, whose reputation as a landlord is beyond comparison to the Centennial State, and the reputation has been gained through the reports which guests of his house have carried to friends for whose comfort and welfare they felt the greatest solicitude. The rooms of both houses are used as sleeping apartments, while meals are served alone at the Crawford House, the dining room of the Springs being fitted up as a billiard parlor. In the matter of cleanliness, ventilation and comfortable furniture the rooms are all that could be wished, and the table yields the palm to no first class Eastern or Western hotel.

Mr. H. J. Jenkins and Mr. Kurt A. Bunker are the efficient and worthy relatives of the proprietor, and cause nothing undone that can in any way contribute to the pleasure of guests.

Strangers contemplating a visit to this part of the country may rest assured that they will be denied none of the comforts and luxuries to be found in any part of the world, and, besides, will certainly find here many things that are to be found nowhere else, among which may be mentioned the majestic scenery, the glories of waterfalls, the balmy sunshine, and the cool, sleep-inducing nights. And when, in addition to these, are to be found, sympathetic and careful attention on the part of host and clerks, it is manifest that visitors and tourists in search of health and pleasure can wish no more desirable spot toward which to direct their footsteps.

It is thought that the Legislature will adjourn about the 1st of March.

Grand preparations are being made in Ireland for the funeral of John O'Nahoney, the Fenian chief who recently died in this country.

A cable despatch says that thirty vessels, many with their entire crews, were lost in the gale on the English coast, on the night of the 19th.

Two more rear admirals of the U. S. Navy have died. They are Davis and Goddard, the latter of whom died on Tuesday, of typhoid pneumonia.

The woodwork on the St. Louis bridge caught fire last Monday, from some burning houses on the Illinois shore. The damage was about $50,000.

James D. Beeson, Republican, was elected Mayor of Syracuse, N. Y., on Tuesday, by a majority of 1,756. The Republicans carried every ward in the city.

The Inter-Ocean says sufficient evidence has been obtained of the boxer killing in Banning's district in Ohio to sustain him and set Stanley Martsells, who will likely be tried.

A son of Judge Dryden, formerly of the Supreme Bench of Missouri, shot and dangerous wounded, Col. Fred Meyer, U. S. Revenue Agent, at Warrenton in Missouri, on Sunday last.

The elector count has proceeded as follows: In Oregon, where it was opened by Captain, 1,000. What is to come will be told as the Senate will probably be seated Saturday or Sunday.

The Ohio Legislature has passed a compulsory education bill.

Don Piatt, editor of the Washington Capital, has been indicted by the grand jury for seditious writing in his paper of as: Sunday. He was arrested on Wednesday, and released on $5,000 bail.

The code bill was passed in the State Senate on Wednesday, and now only needs the Governor's signature to make it a law. House bill to establish an insurance department was defeated in the Senate.

Two surviving sailors were rescued from the wreck of the British bark Maria, in January, by the captain of the schooner E. E. McDonald. They had been on the ocean for six months.

Mr. Channing Sweet has decided to leave Colorado Springs to locate for the present in La Veta.

"Do you want a day keeper?" is the question exchanged by boys, now that warm weather has come.

The attention of stockowners is called to a notice signed by the City Consuls in today's paper. They may save money by attending to this matter.

No gay papers yesterday, as editors and printers suspended work on the 24th of December in favor of the man whom they revered and imitated—the man who could not be beaten.

Mr. O. T. Barker returned home from California the early part of this week. Mrs. Barker was so much better that she concluded to stay on the coast.

A correspondent of the Denver Tribune, writing from Vailmont, says: Within a radius of ten miles of Colorado Springs, is a region more interesting than any other locality in the State.

Mr. S. E. Ranck came down from Denver on Thursday's train.

The military company was out for drill on Thursday afternoon.

Table-boats wanted in Hartwell's Row. See advertisement elsewhere.

Two Chinamen regularly attend the Congregational Sunday school in this city.

The District Court will probably continue through the greater part of next week.

Mr. H. K. Palmer has removed to his own house, opposite the A. M. E. church.

Misses Sallie and Sadie Cowpi, aunt and daughter of the editor of the Rice County Gazette, just arrived at Sedgewick, Kansas, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Denison.

The father and mother of Mr. George Reed took him by surprise on Thursday afternoon, coming from Auburn, N. Y., without any notification of their intention to pay him a visit.

The probate court, Judge E. T. Stone, will commence its sessions next Monday. The term should have commenced on the 21st inst., but that being also the day on which the Dist. Court opened, the former was of greater convenience postponed.

John Gil, who drives a team for Mr. S. M. Sanders, had the misfortune to break his leg in two places on Thursday afternoon. He was in a wagon with another man, at Manitou, and the horses became unmanageable, both jumped out, Mr. Gil sustaining the injury above mentioned.

The young socials at the Congregational church on Thursday evening will visit Colorado Springs soon. The term should have commenced on the 21st inst., but that being also the day on which the Dist. Court opened, the former was of greater convenience postponed.

Whee & Henricksen have opened a restaurant in the north room of the Wanamaker Block. Let it not be supposed that these are the rival candidates for Vice President at the late election, for they are not. They are two worthy young men of this city.

It is stated that the Forrester Troupe will visit Colorado Springs soon.

The troupe has been playing to good houses in the mountains, and the impression left by its visit to this city some time ago will be apt to secure it a favorable reception.

Mr. Thomas Waness has received the document bearing the sign-manu of Postmaster-General Verner, which certifies that the United States agrees to use the second room of the new part of his shop for a post-office for five years from the 1st of this month, and to give him there an annual rent of four hundred dollars.

From statistics in the Railroad Gazette it appears that Colorado will be 154 1/2 miles of rail road in 1876; California, Ohio, and Texas were the only States to built a greater number of miles.

The wagon bearing the Stars and Stripes in commemoration of the boy who cut the cherry tree—no, who could not be a lie.

As S. P. Gushell's eight-mile team, drawing nearly six thousand feet of lumber, was coming down the Ute Pass road Thursday afternoon, the bridle gave way about half way between the falls and the foot of the grade. Then began a vigorous race between the wagon and the mules. When crossing the bridge near the bottom of the wagon ran within about two inches of the edge, tearing away the posts like nine-pins. This danger past, the team barely escaped running into another team which was coming up the road just this side of the bridge. But it did escape, and the eye ground was reached in safety by what seems almost a miracle.

The anniversary ball on Thursday evening was attended by a happy company of ladies and gentlemen. There were fifty couples present, and it was a charming sight to see the fair women and brave men moving through the intricate figures to the excellent music of Algeo Quadrille Band, while the clapping of Prof. Seelye elicited the movements of all.

The new letter to-day's paper is a letter from the father of Mr. Edward C. Cooper, of this city. The text is as follows:

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the Work of the cemetery seems to be completed.

Ice has been experienced with by a number of citizens.

Asthmatics bless the warm, sunny days we have had this week.

To the back of S. Leonard & Co.'s store-room an action is being pursued.

The GAZETTE thanks Mr. J. E. Wadsworth for the letter from Southwater.

The actions for the fire department were taken to the engine house on Thursday.

Mr. Channing Sweet has decided to leave Colorado Springs to locate for the present in La Veta.

"Do you want a day keeper?" is the question exchanged by boys, now that warm weather has come.

The attention of stockowners is called to a notice signed by the City Consuls in today's paper. They may save money by attending to this matter.

No gay papers yesterday, as editors and printers suspended work on the 24th of December in favor of the man whom they revered and imitated—the man who could not be beaten.

Mr. O. T. Barker returned home from California the early part of this week. Mrs. Barker was so much better that she concluded to stay on the coast.

A petition to Mr. T. A. McMorris is run to be a candidate for Mayor on the license ticket has been in circulation this week.

There was considerable movement in real estate Wednesday morning. It was in the unverified form, and the wind effected the transfer.

Water was again turned into the streets on Tuesday, on Wednesday morning. It was cloudy and cold, and the snow was stopped.

A wagon-load of jack-rabbits was on the streets on Wednesday. The supply was in excess of the demand, and the price dropped accordingly.

Mrs. Abby, a lady who came from Xanadu in June, 1876, died suddenly of heart disease last Saturday. She leaves a husband and five little children.

Mr. A. G. Adams was subpoenaed as a witness in the District Court, and was not able to leave for Duray with his printing materia as Monday, as instructed.

The X. O. R. M. has again contributed $25 to the relief of the poor of Colorado Springs; this time in cash. Jones, in town, says the X. O. R. M. mean Kegs of Reedy Money?

For the convenience of parties who wish to send the GAZETTE to their friends, copies may be obtained, sealed in wrappers ready or posing, at the office counter. Price, only 5 cents.

Mr. A. H. Barrett has been appointed agent of the Adams Express Company in this city. All packages will be taken to and from the depot free of charge, by Mr. Bacon's express wagon.

The Wilson coal now being delivered is very superior to the previous production of the mines. Orders for the Wilson coal may be left with S. V. Manning at Strayer & Marz's meat market.

A ranch of 160 acres on the Divide, 22 miles from this city, has just been sold to two gentlemen in Eng and the sum of $5,000. The purchasers will come out and take possession of their property early in the spring.

The firm of Donkin & McCaughey has been dissolved, and Mr. W. F. Forbes has become associated with Mr. Donkin in the ice and mineral water business. Leave orders at Ross & Co's, G. S. Barnes', and Chase & Gardner's.

Three new firms have been organized in this line of business: 1. have good stocks; the reason you did not see them in paper sent was because they do not advertise. 2. Yes, a suitable room for the business could be obtained, we think.

Dr. T. G. Horn, member of the State Board of Health, has presented the office with the annual report of the Board. Dr. Horn's contribution was a report on the mineral springs of Colorado. It is an interesting paper. The whole report is widely circulated by the friends of the State. The same may be obtained or application to the Secretary of State, Dr. H. L. Lemen, at Denver.

A serious accident occurred last Saturday to Mr. Douglass. The horse was driving, began to run, and threw her out of the wagon on a pile of stones. Her head was bad cut and bruised, and was recovered in the evening that she had died from her injuries. This was a misfortune, and the lady is recovering. The horse continued running until he had come to a standstill. Wm. Susie's Dead wagon by collision with the vehicle to which he was attached, when he was thrown, was a standstill.

On Sunday afternoon Miss Alice Zuges and Miss Alice Parker, while riding horseback, started through the creek where the South and Cheyenne roads meet, and crossed the bridge.

Miss Parker's pony slipped in the mud, and the girls fell into the water. They were rescued by Mr. S. V. Manning, who afterward was compelled to get out of the water to help them.

An exchange says: One of the greatest dangers to a free government is license under color of law. This is not what those who are in favor of license advocate. Now open the gates to all, and let them enter.

The Gazette has a new editor, Mr. Edward C. Cooper, of this city. The text is as follows:

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

"I am bound to the people of Colorado Springs, the Gazette, and the

On Tuesday evening a number of the citizens of Colorado Springs were gathered together.

Mr. Wm. Hay will send your cow for one dollar a head.

Mr. W. E. Caylor left for Chicago on Saturday evening.

Has anybody found the car which was lost?

